$15,580,000 TAX
ROLL IN HUMBOLDT

HUMBOLDT'S PROPERTY NEARLY FOUR MILLIONS MORE THAN LAST YEAR.

County Treasurer F. G. Hoenesline has completed the work of totaling the taxes and valuations of the Humboldt county assessment roll for the year 1912. The total taxable property on the roll is $15,580,000, of which amount $15,580,000 is the valuation of personal property upon which taxes amounting to $6610.38 have been collected by the county assessor. The total amount of taxes on the roll to be collected by the county treasurer is $255,364.31, which is in round numbers $90,000 more than the taxes paid last year.

The increase in property valuation in the county for 1912 over last year is $3,869,234, or nearly one-fourth of the increase in the property valuation of the entire state. In other words, Humboldt is to furnish approximately one-fourth the increased revenue which the tax commission announced was necessary for the needs of the state government. Still in other words and figures, Humboldt will pay over $25,000 more this year than it did last year toward the support of the state government—Humboldt Star.

Big Game Today Between
Famous Army and Navy Teams

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The final chapter of 1913 football history will be completed today with the playing of the annual Army-Navy football game at the Polo grounds in this city. The local pride and enthusiasm in the Army-Navy game is pardonable since that spectacular and closing football contest is a novelty to the metropolis. Although the game is the eighteenth between the two arms of the United States service, the blue and gray brigades and their attendant corps of uniformed and brass-buttoned adherents have heretofore been unfamiliar to New Yorkers except as they passed through the city on their way to Princeton or Philadelphia for the yearly academy encounter. Now that city and citizen is given an opportunity to demonstrate just what New York has to offer as the site and scene for such a football classic the determination to make it an annual feature is evidenced.

More than 45,000 seats have been

SIXTEEN STAMP
MILL TIED UP
BY APEX SUIT

ERECTED ON WHITE LILY MINE, BUT SUIT PREVENTS IT FROM CRUSHING ORE.

QUINCY, Cal., Nov. 28.—A sixteen-stamp mill that was erected on the White Lily mine, near Seneca, formerly known as the Dunn mine, has never been operated. When all was ready to begin crushing ore, an injunction suit was filed by J. J. Riley, of the Del Monte mine, and operations had to cease. It is an apex suit, and will soon be tried in the federal court.

A large amount of $40 ore was blocked out ready to be milled when the suit was filed. The mill was moved from Long Valley and set up in its present location.

The owners are Quincy people and they are heavy losers unless the suit is decided in their favor.

LEFT LARGE ESTATE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 28.—An inventory placing the value of the estate of the late Jacob Joseph Walsor, president of the Goss Printing Press company, at $1,151,571, was filed in the probate court here today.

provided in the Brush stadium, and every coupon was sold weeks ago. Applications and accompanying checks for over 30,000 seats have been returned unfilled owing to the inability of the management to find another foot of seating space in the vast enclosure. Although extra boxes and stand additions were made, it is estimated that fully 80,000 persons would have witnessed the game were it possible to accommodate that many.

That the game, aside from its spectacular features and attendant gathering of notables, will result in a contest abounding in brilliant football play and strategy is the opinion of those who have followed the gridiron career of the two elevens during the present season. Although the Navy team is a slight favorite owing to its impressive list of victories to date, the Army is not without its backers who are willing to wager that, like Yale, the soldiers in their final stand of the year will be far more formidable than generally believed.

It is on this ability to arise to the occasion that the supporters of the cadets are counting on the game for, judged by their season's records, the odds of 10 to 7 offered by unaffiliated football followers appear to be justified. The Middles have developed this season one of the heaviest yet fastest teams of recent years. In the opening game of the schedule the powerful University of Pittsburgh eleven succeeded in holding the Navy to a no-score tie. The Middles are generally credited with having one of the best elevens that ever represented the Naval academy.

The West Point team has played erratic football all season, winning games from strong opponents by one-sided scores only to lapse a week later against elevens of similar caliber. The soldiers just escaped defeated by Colgate and Tufts and were completely outplayed by Notre Dame.

In seventeen games the Army has scored 160 points to the Navy's 130. The largest score of the series was made by the Army team of 1903, when it defeated the sailors 40 to 0. The smallest score victories were those of the Navy in 1910 and 1911, when a single field goal gave the Middles a 3-point margin over the soldiers.
